

PRIVACY POLICY

COOKIES:

---

We use Google Analytics and other applications to customise and analyse the traffic on our website in order to provide you with the best possible experience. You consent to our cookies policy, if you continue to use our website.

PERSONAL DATA:

---

Website: We only register contact information of individuals and companies that sign up for our newsletters. At any time, you can request, or have us change or delete, this information.

AutoFrontal Online: We register contact information, distributor association and payment status of individuals and companies that have access to AutoFrontal. This information will be passed on to third parties, when applicable. At any time, you can request, or have us change or delete, this information. This can only happen at the expiry of a contract period.

Business partners: We register only the necessary company contact information that is required to meet our obligations to customers and suppliers. This information will be passed on to third parties, when applicable. At any time, you can request, or have us change or delete, this information. This can only happen at the expiry of a contract period.

Marketing: We register basic contact information of companies that deal with the transport sector or other industries that are relevant to our core areas. At any time, you can request, or have us change or delete, this information.